THE BLACK LIST.

Here is the list in black letters of the men who, by an unhappy accident being in mportant official positions, deliberately abused their trust, perverted the laws which it was their sworn duty to execute justly and impartially according to their spirit and in tent, who sought by wicked trickery to thwart the will of the people as expressed at the polls and who not only brought disgrace upon themselves but smirched the fair fame of the State whose officials they unfortunately were. Their names and place should be known of all men that they may receive the just punishment of being regarded as infamous by all good citizens and that the rising generation may learn by their example the folly of being wicked. To this list is appended the names of such other men as have taken offices to which they knew they were not elected, and who become equally guilty by taking advantage of the vile conduct of the original malefac-

The Republicans of the several cities and towns in the First District of Maine, are invited to send delegates to a District Convention, to be held in CONGRESS HALL, PORTLAND, on Tuesday, March 2, 1880, at 12 1-2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of choosing two delegates and two alternates, to attend the Republican National Con-vention to be held in Chicago on the 3d of June

The District Committee will be in session in the nate-room of the Hall at 11 o'clock, A. M. for the EBEN N. PERRY, Cape Elizabeth, Chairman B. T. CHASE, Bridgton, HIRAM KNOWLTON, Portland, JOHN S. PARKER, Lebanon. SYLVESTER BARTLETT, Ellot. JAMES F. BRACKETT, Limington. J. W. BEATTY, Saco, Secretary.

The victory at the Municipal election yesterday bettered the most sanguine expectations. William Senter was chosen Mayor by the largest majority ever cast for a candidate, Republican or other, in the city of Portland. We had reason to believe that our people would eagerly seize upon the opportunity to rebuke the men who sought to disfranchise them and nullify the will of the voters of Maine as expressed at the ballot box. But our large anticipations were not large enough to measure the volume of their wrath. The censure they have passed upon the authors of the conspiracy to steal the State is so strong and explicit that the blindest of the Fusion leaders cannot fail to see its full meaning. The honest people of this city refused to be misled in regard to the issue, and, though the Fusionists put in nomination the strongest candidate, perhaps, they could bring forward, and sought to make the ight upon personal and local questions, and strove in all ways to avoid a judgment upon the scandalous doings at Augusta, they spoke in emphatic condemnation of the

The city and the State and the friends of ree government everywhere, are to be congratulated upon the result. We note with especial pleasure that many men whose sympathies have hitherto been with the opposition cast their votes for the Republican candidates. The strong Democratic Wards showed surprising changes. Many Irishmen broke from the vassalage in which they have so long been held by the Democratic leaders, and carrying out their honest convictions, cast their lot with the political party that has proved itself the champion of the oppressed of all nationalities. Many "conscience Democrats," too, refused to sanction by their votes the infamous acts for which the chiefs of their party are so justly held re-Our excellent candidate for mayor has those weapons of detraction and slander in whose use the Fusionists are so apt. The failure of the assault and the emphatic approval of his fellow citizens are splendid tributes to his integrity and popularity. In all probability the false and venomous attacks upon him roused a feeling of just resentment that contributed to his success. The result of the election is especially valuable as an indication of the result next Fall. It shows that the sturdy people of Maine have determined to put under their feet the corrupt and shameless coalition that during its brief lease of power has done so much to disgrace the State and make its name a reproach and a by-word to the country. Yesterday's victory is but a faint prophecy of the Republican victory next

THE intelligent Irishmen made themselves felt yesterday and their influence was thrown for good government.

THE Chicago Times has interviewed 8576 representative Illinois Republicans, of whom 4282 were for Blaine, 2895 for Grant, and 1064 for Washburne. Blaine was first choice in thirty-seven counties, Grant in twenty.one, and Washburne in five. In several of the counties the action of the Pennsylvania Convention has helped Blaine, and in quite a number the Grant movement is greatly on the decline. The Times says that the "absolute impartiality of the canvass may be relied upon" at it was "conducted with a view, not of magnifying the strength of any particular candidate, but to the ascertaining of the exact state of affairs;" and that, "by means of it the theory

THE New York Tribune is anxious to know "What is the opinion of the Democratic newspapers of the country on the scheme of their leaders in Congress to steal the vote of Minnesota? They must have one of some sort, yet they keep it to themselves. To all outward appearances they have not even heard of the outrageous plan. They didn't hear of the Maine scandal until it turned out to be a failure, and then they assailed Garcelon for stupidity rather than for moral crookedness. If Donnelly fails to upon to discover that he is a blundering lemagogue unworthy of the name of Democrat. There are respectable journals in the party which ought to say as much in ad-

how a lobster cast his shell when he had outgrown it. Said he, "What do you do when you have outgrown your clothes? Cast them aside, do you not?" "Oh, no," replied the little one, "we let out the tucks." A Vermont hunter refrained from firing at six rabbits and two fexes that he saw, because he wanted to have his gun all ready when that deer which his dogs were running came up, and when the animal did appear and proved to be a heifer from a neighboring pasture he sprained his knee kicking the hound that ran

Dora D'Istria, princess and author, has written to Miss Kate Sanborn to say that she is oming to visit America next summer. The czar's apartments were entered through a chimney the other day by an enterprising Nihilist, disguised as a chimney-sweep. Imnediately afterwards an officer presented himself in the czar's anteroom, claiming admission to his majesty on the plea of being the bearer of despatches from General Gourko. The czar's aide de camp on duty entertained some suspicion of the officer being an impersonator, which was confirmed in the course of a short conversation. He therefore secretly telegraphed to General Gourko to repair at once pretending officer was detected. He was at once carried off to prison.

A new book of etiquette in London gives the following as the fashionable pronunciation of certain names with deceptive spellings: Major. ibanks is pronounced Marshbanks; Mainwaring, Mannering; St. John, Sinjin; Cockburn, Coburn; Cholmondeley, Chumley; Berkley, Barkley; Brougham, Baroum; Montgomery, Mungumery; Abergavenny, Ar bergenny, Beauchamp, Beacham; Colquohoun, Koohoun; Duchenes, Dukarn; Beaconsfield, Beckonsfield; Bethune, Beeton; Milnes, Milles; Ruth-

A description of De Lesseps says, "He compels genuine respect at first sight. A man of niddle stature, with white hair and gray moustache, piercing hazel eyes, which have an extremely kind expression, black eyebrows the Republican District Convention that and a ruddy, healthy face, he combines the vieux régime with the best characteristics of a soldier of high rank. In society in France he would in appearance present no contrast to the accepted type of a vieux militaire. In conversation M. De Lesseps is frank and eloquent to obliterated in his vigorous diction and the demonstrative gestures with which his persuasive and gracious conversation is rendered all the more impressive."

Mr. Gladstone wants Englishmen still to be punished for breach of promise to marry. He is opposed to the abrogation of the present law on the subject. "I am unwilling," he says in a recent letter, "to part with the imperfect
